Electric Sawmill Washed Away. Tillamcok, Ore., Nov. 26.-By the breaking of a dam, the electric sawmill near Hobsonville was washed away and destroyed. The mill was situated in a gulch, and when the dam broke above an immense body of water came down, carrying trees and rocks. The rushing water took up the mills and carried it a quarter of a mile, completely demolishing it and covering it with debris. The dynamo and power house just escaped, as the gulch widens out there. The loss will amount to many thousands. Ways of Helping the Boers. Paris, Nov. 26 .- The morning papers suggest various ways of assisting Mr. Kruger's cause. The Route from Dijon to Paris. Though Traversed at an Early Hour, Was a Continual Series of Cheering Crowds, and in Paris It was an Ovation.

Paris, Nov. 24.-Mr. Kruger arrived in Paris at 10:40 a. m. and was given a magnificent reception. The boule-

Mr. Kruger and party entered the train at Dijon at 6:30 a. m. His saloon cars were attached to the train de luxe from the Riviera to Paris.

In spite of the early hour, a fair number of inhabitants assembled on the platform to cheer the departing statesman. Mr. Kruger uttered a few words of thanks to the city for its splendid welcome.

Only Stopped Once.

The train only stopped once en route, at La Roche, where a deputation, with flags, was waiting at the station to present Mr. Kruger with a warmly-worded address of admiration and sympathy for the Boer cause. Mr. Kruger thanked the deputation through his interpreter. The crowd, which was of respectable numbers for such a small town, gave the distinguished traveler unstinted applause. Elsewhere along the route there were the same scenes as Friday. People were waiting on the sides of the track and on bridges and other points of vantage. They waved their hats and cheered as the train rushed past at highest speed.

Gatherings Grew More Frequent. Nearing Paris, these gatherings grew more frequent and of larger numbers, until the train approached the terminus, the Gare de Lyon, here. Then a remarkable spectacle was presented. Not only the windows but the roofs of the houses commanding a view of the track were covered with spectators. In addition the railroad employes, engineers, cleaners, porters and guards, had clambered on the trains lying on the side of the tracks and at the coaling platforms-at ev-train itself could be secured. Was Merely a Foretaste. This, however, was merely a foretaste of the spectacle which greeted Mr. Kruger's eyes when the train steamed into the station itself. Notwithstanding stringent precautions to admit only ticket holders, a large assemblage filled the station, while a huge concourse of people gathered in the courtvard outside. The mayor and municipal councillors, a number of senators, deputies, army officers and reporters were mustered on the platform. A Disappointing Error.

Mr. Kruger was to have passed through the station hall, which had been specially arranged as a salon of honor, being profusely decorated with flowers, and where he was to be formally received by the mayor and municipal councillors, but, for some reason, the mayor welcomed him on the platform instead and Mr. Kruger, to the great disappointment of those waiting in the salon of honor, passed Chicago, Nov. 26 .- Walking a nar- out through another door to the front

Driven to Hotel Scribe. Mr. Kruger entered this vehicle and was at once driven off for his hotel, amid enthusiastic cheering, which followed him along the whole routealong the outer boulevards, across the Place de la Republique, which was a perfect sea of spectators and through the central boulevards. He arrived at the Hotel Scribe at 11:30

A large escort of mounted municipal guards rode around Mr. Kruger's car-

Bareheaded and Bowing. Mr. Kruger, barheaded, bowed on all sides, while the air was rent with cries of "Vive Kruger," "Vive les Boers." Mr. Kruger quickly alighted from his carriage and entered the hotel, but the mass of spectators was not satisfied and the people shouted, Pagosa Junction, Col., Nov. 26.-Citi- yelled and clapped their hands in Scene Before the Hotel. Handkerchiefs and flags were waved and the greatest enthusiam prevailed. The seene before the hotel continued for over an hour. A body of students, bearing flags, attempted to march past the hotel but were stopped.
